This order is valid and legally binding for Trader until being executed by the Broker Advantag. The request is accepted through the Broker by entering the Traders request into the Trading platform. The request can be cancelled through the Trader. A valid request cancellation requires explicit acceptance of cancellation by the Broker. Purely sending a request cancellation request not confirmed by the Broker is not sufficient. The Broker is not forced to accept this request, especially if orders entered into the Trading system can not be recalled in due time. The Trader reaffirms to act on his own account and his own behalf and to have taken his own decision. The Broker did not consult the Trader about volumes, timings, trading limits and so on. This request becomes part of the latest contract and price agreement of the contract between the Trader and Advantag Aktiengesellschaft. After the order is filled, both parties have to sign the Single Trading Agreement.
